DuShane Band Bio

Formed in late 2012, DuShane is a culmination of southern rock and modern pop country . The band consists of vocals, electric/acoustic guitars, bass, drums, pedal steel, violin and keyboards. Formally of the band Law and Order (MCA Records), lead singer DuShane, brought up on the Nashville/Memphis sound but also uses his New York City roots to create their "Urban Country" Americana sound. The Band is a blend of acoustic and sonic texture that is reminiscent of classic country and southern rock, and shimmers with modern studio sounds and arrangements.

Tutored by friends and former producers Joe Hardy, Mac Reinhold and Shane Keister, The DuShane Band was able to produce and engineer and record their first independent record. DuShane's first single "Alabama Rain" released in late 2017 has received receiving warm reviews and gaining popularity from fans with different musical tastes, and with a release of DuShane's first music video for "Summertime" the band hopes to gain popularity with country and rock fans as well as appeal to a broader global audience.

Since the release of "Alabama Rain", the DuShane Band has had great success with 3 more singles. Their next single "Forever for now" debuted in Early January of 2018 and has reached top 10 crossover charts on NMW as well as Starfleet DJ pool.

Following up the the release of their third single "Can't slow down " which also reached top 10 crossover charts on NMW as well as Starfleet DJ pool and is still being currently played in daily rotation on many Country music stations. Their Latest single "Jody" made it to #1 in 2 categories on NMW as well as Starfleet DJ Pool. They held that position for the month of May 2019.

Currently the DuShane band is closing in on a Canada/UK release. If you want to know more about what they are doing you can contact their manager Karvin Johnson at the contact info below.
